MOUNT SAINT MARY ACADEMY
3224 KAVANAUGH BOULEVARD
LITTLE ROCK, ARKANSAS 72205

Based on the design and concept of
The Preppy Handbook, Copyright, 1980, by Lisa Birnbach, Workman Publishing, New York.

The school building is the center of Mount tradition.

MOUNT TRADITION

It is the privilege of every Mount St. Mary Academy girl to wear the houndstooth skirt. Being a Mountie is an opportunity enjoyed by a special group of young ladies. To attend this private school is an honor shown by spirit original to Arkansas. In a true Christian community, everyone is upper-class.

The Official Mercian Yearbook takes you through the Mount community. Within this book is an abundance of handiwork, including spirit, tradition, and, above all, loyalty and love.

The Mount tradition brings stories of old and new. New construction combines with ideals and goals of 1851 to make the Mount unique and something of which every girl is proud.

How can a Mount girl be recognized? She is original, has an ear-to-ear smile, unfathomable spirit, and an undying loyalty to the "school on the hill," Mount St. Mary Academy.

UNITY THROUGH RELIGION

Religion at Mount St. Mary is a unifying force and a lasting tradition. The Sisters of Mercy founded the school in 1851 to provide good Catholic-Christian education for young ladies of Arkansas. Mount St. Mary sets itself apart from other schools because each day and each class begin with prayer. Special religious traditions include liturgies, class retreats, and prayer services. Juniors receive their senior rings during a Ring Mass. Baccalaureate for Mount St. Mary seniors centers around celebration of the Eucharist.

The arrival of Father Stephen Binz as chaplain began a new religious tradition for the 1983-84 school year. The Mercy sisters by their presence and example provide a Christian atmosphere. A new chapel rising from the site of the old convent will begin another religious tradition.

In each classroom hangs a crucifix, and several statues of Mary grace the campus. Girls wear their houndstooth skirts and white blouses to provide an element of community and sameness. This philosophy relates to Christ's. Mount St. Mary is catholic in the true sense of the word: open to all. The administrative team consists of Mercy sisters, but not all the faculty and students are of the Catholic faith. Life at Mount St. Mary includes many rich traditions.

THE SPIRITED LIFE

During the heat at the beginning of school, Beth Satterfield eats lunch outdoors.

Suzanna Barnett and Alise Hart scan the stands at a Catholic High game for a homecoming date.

From spirit in the Mount comes pride, and in turn that pride fosters still greater spirit. This happy cycle has truly made our school a special place, recognized for its spirit within these walls and in the general Little Rock area. The administration initiates school spirit through such awards as the spirit stick and banners. But it can only be through the students themselves that spirit is raised to its greatest heights. This year the abstract concept of spirit was even organized by a new group named the Spirit Council.

Spirit in the Mount is most easily felt at an exciting game, during bazaar time, and in appreciation of individual outstanding achievements. But there is another type of spirit, a subtler form, which brightens the Mount. This spirit is made manifest whenever a group works together toward a common goal or joins in song at Mass. The Mount students will one day be long gone through these doors, but spirit for and pride in her alma mater will remain with her for her entire life.

— Christy Rieger

STUDENT LIFE

Traditional Ring Mass

Finally the day arrived that the Class of 1984 had been waiting for. The Seniors received their rings on Thursday, May 19, 1983, during a Mass at St. Andrew's Cathedral.

Father Francis Malone, the girls' religion teacher in their sophomore year, was the celebrant of the Ring Mass. A small group of Seniors led the rest of the class in singing while two teachers, Sr. Susan Charles Pluff and Mrs. Ellen Glancy, played the guitar.

Traditional pastel colors worn by the girls were appropriate for the warm spring evening. Each girl carried one long-stemmed rose into the cathedral as parents and friends watched.

After three years of anticipation, the moment of officially becoming a Senior had arrived. Each student anxiously waited for her name to be called. She then walked to the altar and had the ring slipped on her finger. Now she was truly a Senior!

Lori Flynn and Deborah Dober are glad to be finally getting their rings.

Back to School

Students completed their last day of the 1982-83 school year at the Mount on May 25. They left with the feeling of relief, for a three month vacation was awaiting them. Little did they know it would not last too long.

Registration began on August 22 and lasted through the 25. These days were marked by 100° plus temperatures. Each class had their own day to attend school to find their classes, meet their teachers, and, of course, to get re-acquainted with old friends. One of the first things they noticed was the destruction of the old convent. Many felt that the convent would be missed a great deal. The building of a new chapel and kitchen, along with a new parking lot, gave the students a new and better outlook on the upcoming year.

The first school liturgy was celebrated on September 8. The students and faculty came together as one body. The theme of the mass was "What we are is God's gift to us. What we become is our gift to God." This was shown by the unity of the school as a whole.

The "Back to school" dance was held on August 26 in the school gym. The Junior Class sponsored the dance and came up with the theme "Beach Bash." The dynamic Dennis Harrington, cooperation of classes, and the Mount spirit made the dance a big success!

Freshman Days

As the 1983-84 school year opened, incoming Freshmen participated in activities pertaining to Big Sister-Little Sister Days. This has been a tradition at the Mount for many years. It is way for Seniors to initiate Freshmen into St. Mary's. Many different "games" are planned. They involve anything from dressing up Freshmen to water fights.

During Freshman Week, three days were set aside for these unique and fun games. Wednesday was called "Dress Alike Day." Big Sisters and Little Sisters dressed in identical outfits and attended Back-to-School Mass. Next was Poster Day. This included Big Sisters making posters for their Little Sisters to wear. Most signs stated who her wonderful Big Sister was, and that she would perform any sort of "stunt" her Big Sister taught her. A wide range of stunts were created, such as the hog call, a wolf howling, roll over and play dead, and jump like a frog.

Friday was the last planned Freshman day, but it certainly was not the least important. This was the day for the Big Sisters to dress up their Little Sisters in the sort of fashion of any famous or infamous person. Many laughs accumulated throughout the day as the Freshmen calmly attended their classes.

This has always been a fun and enjoyable day for Freshmen and Seniors as well as the faculty to get to know and grow with one another.

Robin Hood Days

On November 21, 22, and 23, students once again showed their Thanksgiving spirit with Robin Hood days. This year the Freshman and Sophomore classes sponsored the clothes drive to help the needy. The traditional events took place beginning with the mother-daughter off campus lunch on May 21. The father-daughter dance took place on Nov. 22, and a can tag day was held on Nov. 23. A special prayer service was held with Rev. John Miles of St. John's Methodist Church to send everyone home with a feeling of Thanksgiving for the holidays.

The Mount Continues

The old convent at Mount St. Mary Academy had a major role in the school's function. As the years rolled by, and time took its toll, the building began to deteriorate. A new building was constructed for school purposes. It was logical that the old building should be torn down. A new convent had been built for the Sisters of Mercy. Demolition on the old building began in July, 1983. At the Bazaar Mass, plans for a new chapel were revealed. It is scheduled for completion on the site of the old building. Some community response to the destruction of the old convent building was negative, the process was for the good of the Mount community. As Susan Scott wrote to the Arkansas Gazette, "Bricks and wood, no matter how many fond memories they have played host to, are not 'the Mount.' Buildings may come and go; changes will occur; but the spirit of the Mount will endure."

Destruction begins on the old Mercy Convent which has stood as a Little Rock landmark since 1907.

A DREAM BECOMES REALITY

In early October, thirteen senior girls were nominated for the Homecoming Court and Queen positions. Eight of these girls represented a spirit group, and five were from nonspirit groups. Finally, at an afternoon assembly, the Queen and her court were chosen. Laura Dailey was elected Queen, and her court consisted of Jody Simpson, Suzy Lilly, Karen Yada, Cynthia Helgeson, and Gina Scerbo.

At the Homecoming game, Queen Laura Dailey and the Court were introduced at War Memorial Stadium before fans from St. Mary's, Catholic High, and Hall High School. Laura Dailey and her Court exhibited their fine qualities that made everyone at St. Mary's proud of them.

Search No. 58

At Search No. 58, the slogan was "Life is great at Search #58." Juniors and seniors from both St. Mary's and Catholic High attended the event at Ferncliff in Ferndale, Ark. The Searchers, despite cold weather, they were helped to realize more about themselves and God. Search "Mom" and "Dad" — Gina Scerbo and Stanley Dean — presented crosses on the last day. Search was held Jan. 20-22, 1984.

SPECIAL PEOPLE

Lange Robinson, an Art III student, won the Lieutenant Governor's Best of Show Award for her watercolor painting that was entered in the Arkansas Arts and Crafts Design Fair.

Seniors Kim Henderson, Carol Oswald, and Jeanne Marendt received dictionaries for their achievements as National Merit Semifinalists.

BAZAAR

This year Mount Saint Mary Academy's annual bazaar began on Sept. 23, 1983, with the bazaar kick off assembly. The close class level competition brought out a sense of school unity. This year instead of the normal carnival events, a dance was held, on Saturday, Oct. 8, sponsored by the P.T.O. Many students and faculty came to the dance to celebrate the commencement of bazaar events. Finally, on Sunday Oct. 9, to end all the festivities there was an all school mass. Students, faculty, parents, and alumni were all invited to attend. Included in the mass was a ceremony to bless the site of the new chapel. This new tradition seemed to be a success.

A Religious Year

Religion opens the hearts of people around the world. Pope John Paul II declared March 25, 1983, to April 22, 1984, as Holy Year. The purpose is to become more open to the Graces of Christ's Redemption as we commemorate the 1950th anniversary of Christ's death on the Cross. A Town Meeting Panel to discuss the Peace Pastoral of the U.S. Catholic Bishops was held at the Mount on Jan. 24. Different persons of different vocations and viewpoints discussed the Peace Pastoral. After the panel presentation, there was a question-answer session, and the evening concluded with a prayer service. Morris Hall at St. John's Center was the center for several activities from the Mount. It was the site for the sophomore retreat.

EUROPEAN ADVENTURES

Students of St. Mary's have twice been fortunate to take trips to parts of Europe. Last summer, students went to such countries as England, France, and Germany. In December, another group went to Europe, covering cities of Florence, Rome, Athens, and Pompeii. They took a boat trip from Italy to Greece. The Vatican, The Coliseum, and the Pompeii Ruins were among the landmarks that were seen. Mrs. Mary Logan chaperoned both European trips.

A NEW ADDITION

Anelis Munoz is our foreign exchange student here at Mount St. Mary's. From Madrid, Spain, she is in the graduating class of 1984. Social Justice, choir, American History, I, typing, and English are the classes she is taking. She also is a part of the student-work-scholarship program, doing work after school in the classrooms. She is getting used to the traditions and spirit of the Mount community.

Top-Rank Tennis Comes to Little Rock

On Sept. 15, 1983, Budweiser Light sponsored tennis matches between first ranked John McEnroe and fifth-ranked Guillermo Vilas at Barton Coliseum. Little Rock was the third stop on a five city tour. Other events included a match of the Coca Cola Future Stars and the Skaggs

Alpha Beta Doubles Match. The racquets of McEnroe and Vilas were auctioned off and the proceeds were given to the Arkansas Children's Hospital. The MSM Yearbook and Newspaper staffs were privileged to join the professional press at the press conference.

HAPPY HOLIDAYS

Christmas cheer rang through the Mount and greater Little Rock at Christmas time. Red and green streamers decorated the halls and stairs. Empty shoes were left outside, and during the night St. Nicholas filled them with Christmas candy. To create unity, members from each grade level came together to form a family. Each family presented a gift that would be given to less fortunate families. At the Christmas assembly, the choir and the band performed beautifully as they sang their Christmas carols. To end the festivities, the entire school had a Christmas party. This was a time for friends to eat lunch together and exchange gifts. Santa Claus was also invited to the party. Students had a chance to visit with Santa, and have their picture taken with him. Christmas was beautiful in Little Rock at the State Capitol. The lighting ceremony began on Dec. 8. The Nativity Scene was also displayed. This may be the last year for the display because of public controversy.

SPORTS

VOLLEYBALL

The 1983-1984 MSM volleyball team showed spirit and determination. They ended regular season play with a 5-7 record. The team reached their goal, which was going to the district tournament. It was held at Parkview. The Belles placed second. They went to the state tournament in Conway where Senior, Amy Brantley, was elected to play on the state volleyball team. This year's team really represented Mt. St. Mary tremendously.

VICTORY RINGS FOR THE BELLES

The 1983-1984 Belles, under the direction of Coach Jerry Hutchinson, had a victorious season. They started the season by going to the semi-finals at the Joe T. Robinson Tournament. In January they participated in the UCA Tournament at Conway. There they placed second. To end the great season the Belles attended the State Tournament at Russellville.

Cross Country

Under the coaching of Melanie Lamkin and Coach Hutchison, the 1983 cross-country team had a successful year. The time and effort the girls willingly devoted to after school practices were definitely reflected in the performance at the meets. The team ended the year with five trophies and placed second in the championship state meet.

MSM'S OWN BELLE

Is there more to Beth Satterfield's life than Jimmy Connors? Besides her infatuation over tennis star Jimmy Connors, Beth holds MSM spirit close to her heart. She can be heard chanting "You've just gotta be a Belles' fan," at any of the Belles basketball games. This cheer sums up Beth's philosophy that every single person who attends the Mount should be proud of all the basketball players who represent them in every game. Beth is probably the greatest spirit builder the Mount has ever seen. Her uniqueness is due to her spontaneous and hilarious personality plus her genuine support of the Belles' teams. She "riles" up the crowd by running around the gym in her newly designed Belle outfit, cheering and ringing her bell. Beth Satterfield has truly made a difference in boosting spirit to all MSM students, and we all thank her.

Mercian Staff

Mercian Staff, Wow! This is the largest yearbook the Mercian staff has ever put out. This year the staff had the opportunity to work with a new advisor, Miss Mary M. Gallagher, who was responsible for bringing many improvements.

The staff attended a yearbook workshop in Conway at UCA for a week. At the workshop the staff won the grand prize of a Minolta 85mm camera and a 55mm lens. Miss Gallagher, Liz Banks, and Angela Nutt also attended the National Scholastic Press convention seminar in St. Louis in October.

"What is going on at Mount St. Mary?" Each month the Mount staff works diligently to provide the latest news. The newspaper includes such special features as editorials, seniors of the month and "Evelina's Etiquette." The editors this year are Christy Rieger and Stephanie Taldo. Many members of the staff attended workshops at UALR and Ole Main High School. Many hours are spent on the production of the Mount, and the effort is shown through the quality of the newspaper.

Girls' State

The Girls State Delegation consisted of 11 outstanding girls of the senior class. Girls State began on June 5 and lasted until June 10. It was held at Ouachita Baptist University and at the State Capitol. St. Mary's students held many major positions and offices. Rhonda Findley was elected State Auditor; Lezlie Wewers, Lieutenant Governor; Gina Scerbo, Speaker of the House; and Shannon Jacuzzi, Assistant Supreme Court Justice.

Two Mount students, Jeanne Marendt and Kristie Daniel, were chosen for the 1983 session of Arkansas Governor's School, a summer school for gifted and talented students. They were chosen by the State Education Committee from an application filled out during their junior year. Jeanne Marendt was chosen to study in the field of instrumental music, and Kristie was chosen for the field of social science. The girls stayed at Hendrix College from June 11 to July 16.

SENIOR COMMITTEES

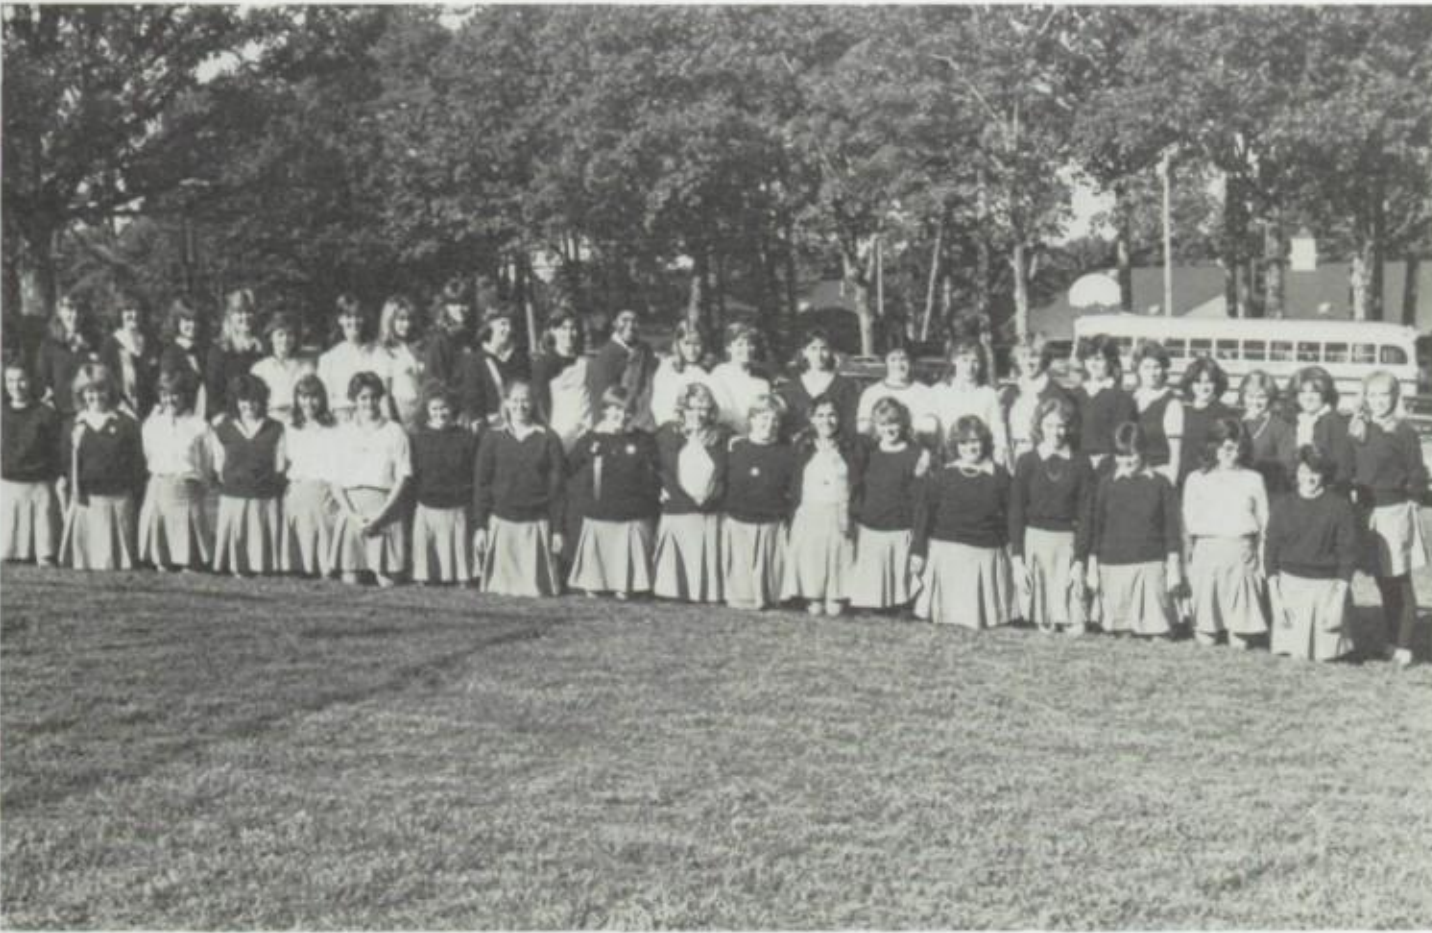

The Senior Committees consisted of five committees, each with a different task. The Class Day Committee organized and planned the Class Day Program. The Graduation/Baccalaureate Committee chose the invitations and nominated candidates, later chosen as graduation speaker by the Senior Class. The Class Day Booklet Committee took polls and produced the Class Day Booklet. The Retreat Committee planned the retreat held at Immaculate Conception. The final committee was composed of Big Sister/Little Sister, Spirit, Christmas Program, and Alumni Tea Committees. This combined committee planned the Christmas Party, Alumni Tea, and Big Sister/Little Sister events.

Language Clubs

The French Club had a very successful year. First, the club participated at language festivals held at Searcy, UALR, and Fayetteville. The members dined at a French restaurant, La Petite Roche, and enjoyed a delicious meal. They also sponsored the French National Honor Society and helped other students with French tutoring.

The Spanish Club raised money by selling German candies. This organization's biggest activity was the trip to Mexico over spring-break. They also participated in the language festivals.

The Latin Club enjoyed success also. They too took part in the Language Festivals and dined in a Latin associated restaurant.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The National Honor Society inducted 19 members for the school year on March 25. They were chosen by two members of the NHS and a panel of teachers. These members were involved in a number of activities during the year. The NHS provided tutoring services, worked the lung booth at the State fair, helped with the blood mobile, and conducted the mind grind.

RED CROSS, SFAC, SFAB, FBLA

Each of these four organizations hold important positions within themselves. Each contributes its own special talents to the school community.

First of all, The Student, Faculty, Administration Council (SFAC) and the Student, Faculty, Administration Board (SFAB) were part of the strong foundation for the successful year at Mount St. Mary. This group conducted activities and worked cooperatively to benefit all at the Mount. One of the activities held by the group was the Leadership Workshop. All students who attended had a chance to benefit from all types of leadership qualities displayed.

Another club this year was Red Cross. This organization worked with the Blood Mobile. This opportunity gave the students a chance to donate blood.

The Future Business Leaders Of America is a club designed to keep up with the business trends of the world. The FBLA sponsored fund raisers and other activities.

ART SOCIETY, Y-TEENS

The National Honor Society of Art is a newly formed organization at Mount Saint Mary. This is a special group of talented girls with great artistic ability. The Art Society had many fund raisers this year, one of which was a very successful bake sale.

Another group at Mount

St. Mary is the Y-Teens. They have been very active this year. The purpose of the organization is to provide community services. The Y-Teens have been very involved with their service projects. They also have been participating in Super-teens, Sadie Hawkins dance, and World Mutual.

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS

The 1983-1984 Varsity Cheerleaders proved to be a well-organized and highly spirited squad this year. The group of ten cheerleaders represented Mt. St. Mary at the University of Central Arkansas camp, which is one of the largest camps in the United States. They received all superior ribbons and were presented with a trophy for the most improved squad. During the summer, they raised money by having numerous car washes and a garage sale. This cheerleading squad is unique because of the closeness of its members and their grand ability of extending their spirit and enthusiasm to both Mt. St. Mary and Catholic High fans.

Sophomore, Freshman Cheerleaders

The 1983-84 Sophomore and Freshman cheerleaders are hard working and enthusiastic squads. After many tiring summer practices, both squads attended summer camps. The Sophomore cheerleaders attended the U of A camp in July. They received the first place trophy for their camp cheer, five superior ribbons, two excellent ribbons, and the spirit stick for the week.

The Freshman cheerleaders attended camp in Fayetteville. They achieved a gold ribbon for improvement, three superior ribbons, one excellent ribbon, and one honorable mention ribbon. Both cheerleading squads have promoted a great deal of spirit.

SPIRIT ABOUNDS

We are very thankful to have the Mount spirit groups who have worked hard to inspire MSM and CHS fans at assemblies and games. Each group was in charge of a different assembly at the Mount to promote spirit through cheers, pyramids, and dance routines. At the football and basketball games the cheerleaders cheered during the game, and the Rockettes marched at halftime. It is easy to say that MSM has truly devoted spirit groups.

ROCKETTES

Everyone cheers at the sight of the marching Rockettes. This yearbook page proudly presents the 1983-84 marching Rockettes. It takes much effort and many hours of strenuous work to become a rockette. Including six a.m. practices, pulled muscles, and cheering fans.

The marchers attended camp at the Southern Missouri State University where they won many awards. The Rockettes also participated at many CHS pep rallies and MSM pep rallies.

Combined Musical Talents Are Successful

Mt. Saint Mary's band and the newly formed choir have been combining their talents this year by performing together at various activities. The band and choir practiced very hard to provide music for Mt. Saint Mary's concerts. They shared other things also. They ushered at Barton Coliseum and every Friday sponsored a salad bar for the student body. The two organizations used the money for their trip to St. Louis. This has been a very successful year for the two groups. The band and choir worked hard, and once again Mt. St. Mary is proud of the music department.

STUDENT CONGRESS

The Mount St. Mary Student Congress delegation consisted of senior spokesmen, junior pages, and sophomore observers. The Congress was held at the Excelsior Hotel and the Old State House from Nov. 13 to Nov. 15. Mrs. Jerry Ferguson was the sponsor of the activity.

United Nations

The Arkansas Mock United Nations met on Dec. 2 and 3 at the University of Central Arkansas. The Mount delegations represented the countries of Argentina, Mexico, Australia, Syria, Saudi Arabia, and Nicaragua. The delegations of Syria and Nicaragua received awards in the areas of debate and general assembly. The Mount received seven out of 12 possible awards at the meeting.

Human Relations/COE/Literary Magazine

Many Seniors this year participated in a different type of class called Human Relations. In this class, the girls work in many areas of the school. They work in the admissions and administrative offices, the audio visual lab, and also as teacher's aides in classrooms. This class is being offered to enable students to provide services where it is needed.

COE (Cooperative Office Education) is another activity offered to the students at Mount St. Mary. COE is a program where a student attends St. Mary for half a day. The rest of the day the student takes one class at Hall High School and then works at a job. This job should pertain to future career goals.

The literary magazine is another first for Mt. St. Mary. This magazine, called Off the Record is sponsored by the journalism class. The magazine gave students a chance to publish their literary talents such as poems, short stories, photographs, or other things.

CLASSES

Karen Corn meditates before class.

Seniors have mixed feelings about International Relations class.

"What do you mean seniors didn't win Bazaar?" exclaims Norma Nesheim.

"Oh, yes, I am homeroom rep!" says Jill Guffin to a shocked Mrs. Gayle Teal.

Pauletta Baldwin is caught off-guard at a Catholic High Football game.

SENIOR OFFICERS

The Class of 1984 received their rings on May 19, 1983, officially making them the Senior Class of Mount St. Mary Academy. They elected as their officers Kim Henderson, president; Laura Dailey, vice president; Jeanne Marendt, secretary; Jill Guffin, treasurer; and Nancy Papacek, representative.

This year, the class participated in the traditionally senior activities. Besides taking advantage of "senior privilege" in lunch line and parking their cars on a lot designated "seniors only," the class counted down the days until graduation on Mrs. Gayle Teal's chalkboard. They also settled down for more serious events.

On Oct. 25 and 26, the Senior Class held an overnight retreat at Immaculate Conception Church in North Little Rock. They began a new Mount tradition by celebrating St. Nicholas Day on Dec. 7; the Christmas Committee decorated the entire school and filled students' shoes with candy. The class also hosted the school-wide Christmas party on Dec. 16.

As the number of days on Mrs. Teal's chalkboard grow steadily smaller, the Seniors will grow busier. May 4 will be the last day of regular classes for them; exams are May 7, 8, and 9. The annual Alumnae Tea is to be on Sunday, May 6. The Seniors will bid farewell Class Day assembly on May 11. They will attend their last Mass together, Baccalaureate, on May 12 at Immaculate Conception Church. On May 16, to strains of "Pomp and Circumstance," the Class of 1984 will process onto the stage of Robinson Auditorium to receive their long-awaited diplomas.

Senior Officers: Jeanne Marendt, secretary; Jill Guffin, treasurer; Nancy Papacek, representative; Kim Henderson, president; and Laura Dailey, vice president.

Awesome Juniors

The junior class is a vital force in the Mount community. Along with the junior year come the important upperclassman status and new responsibilities. The back-to-school dance and the Junior-Senior Prom are two major duties of the junior class. One distinguishing mark of the juniors of 1983-84 is their defeat of the rest of the student body in the bazaar raffle competition. The class topped their goal of $5,145 by attaining 165%. This year was the first time in five years a junior class has won raffle competition.

Participation

Juniors participate in many activities at the Mount. Being an officer, member of a spirit or athletic group, or serving on a committee are examples of the opportunities open to students. The main idea is involvement.

Academics

Academically, the junior year is one of the most difficult years at the Mount. Along with religion and history projects, juniors are introduced to research papers. Certain courses such as religion, American History II, and English are required. However, during the junior year students have the opportunity to take elective courses such as chemistry, accounting, computer, speech, journalism, and art. Hard work during the year will pay off in college scholarships.

Class of '85

The future class of 1985 is anxiously awaiting the senior year. But many exciting things filled their junior year. The Junior-Senior Prom is an event many will always remember. Being held at Woody Sherwood Forest the dance's theme was Camelot. However, the biggest event for all juniors is ring mass. The tradition at Mount St. Mary is for the juniors to receive their rings two days after the seniors' graduation. This enables them to assume senior status.

"Don't shoot! I give up." Jill Elliott participates in a Rockette dance routine.

YEAR OF SUCCESS

This year's sophomore class had a busy year. They started with enthusiasm and dedication as they narrowly defeated the Freshmen in the raffle sales, entitling the class to third place. The class of '86 also headed Robinhood Days the week of Thanksgiving. Events included Mother/Daughter off-campus lunch and a Father/Daughter dance. For the first time, the sophomores sponsored a Freshman/Sophomore Ball. This activity enabled the class to experience planning a formal dance and prepared them for the responsibilities of organizing the Junior/Senior Prom. The sophomore class has certainly exhibited spirit and leadership throughout the school year.

Sophomores merrily make their way to their next class.

RELIGION

Along with the rest of the school, the sophomore religion classes practiced songs to be sung at the school Masses and participated in the offertory and readings at Mass. Their efforts were certainly seen and heard by all throughout the school year.

Julie Chudy and classmates are happy about longer lunch periods.

For the sophomore class, this year has been unusually hectic. When we began the year, we also began raising money for the Bazaar raffle. Then our "secret sophomore" project began. We entitled it "Boo Buddies" due to the upcoming Halloween holiday. With the Boo Buddy activities over, the officers along with Father Binz and a special committee helped plan our class retreat on Nov. 10. Then came Robin Hood Days, three days before the Thanksgiving holidays. The whole school helped and made these days some of the most successful yet. With December upon us, we began fund raising for the Freshman/Sophomore dance held on April 7. To raise money, we held a raffle, sponsored two tag days, held car washes, and sold hot chocolate and donuts. As you can see, not only has our school work kept us busy, but our class activities have also made this year hectic.

Sophomores celebrate at Bazaar assembly as they come in third place in raffle ticket competition.

Katherine Ozment asks, "What did I do now?"

The sophomore officers perform as the "Blues Sisters"

The sophomore motto is "Learn your lessons well."

On their way to classes, sophomores stall on stairs and cause traffic jams.

Melissa Penney expresses awe at Mrs. Bettye Francis' first aid ability.

A YEAR OF ACTIVITY

The Sophomores were a very active class as they were involved in various activities. Sports, volleyball, Bazaar Mass, and assemblies all consisted of Sophomore participants. Thus the class has given its talents and efforts to many school events.

Lisa Wintroath and Donnell Vervack are obviously pleased to be on their way to lunch.

Sophomore officers participate in family Bazaar Mass.

NEWCOMERS

Being the newcomers to the school, the freshmen experience the firsts in their life at the Mount. Freshmen feel the excitement of their first Back-to-School Dance, Bazaar, Robin Hood Days, and retreat. Above all, these activities call for class unity. This year's freshmen displayed the kind of oneness needed. With their energy and enthusiasm, they proved that they can be a class able to act as one to provide spirit and leadership for the school.

During the first few weeks of school, freshmen get their school spirit rolling through Freshman Days. The initiation process includes one day on which seniors dress up their freshman "little sisters" in ridiculous outfits to be worn the entire school day. Freshman Days provide freshmen the opportunity to become acquainted with other students, and give them a sense of unity as a class.

Laura Rasco and Amy Hardin laugh at the thought of revenge on their "big sisters."

ACADEMICS

One very important adjustment for the freshmen is learning how to deal with increased homework. Using study time effectively becomes increasingly important each year as does learning to handle the pressures from homework. This year's freshmen displayed the ability to study in the fact that many freshmen received first and second honors in academics each nine weeks. The large number of freshmen who participated in extracurricular activities while maintaining good grades showed their ability to be active and yet studious.

SUPPORT

Each year, freshmen learn to participate in the numerous school activities. Events such as mass Bazaar assemblies, tag days, off-campus lunches, pep assemblies, and sporting events require support from each class. This year's freshmen showed their enthusiasm through their continued involvement in all school activities. Their school support was helpful and appreciated by the other classes, faculty and administration.

Beth Provost is a tough calligraphy artist.

Carrie Collins strikes a pose.

Elizabeth Viens, Cheryl Vogelpohl, and Tina Tipton look forward to 3 o'clock.

Lisa Anderson is a lone freshman cowboy.

LEADERS

Within the next three years, this freshman class will be called on to be the leaders, the examples. This year, with their spirit and enthusiasm, they have proved their ability to fit these roles. Next year, they will be sophomores, no longer the followers. Responsibilities mount each year, but this class is sure to handle all that may arise.

Carrie Whiteside enjoys a good protest during Freshman Days.

If you don't respect our senior privilege, we'll send our hit men after you. Pauletta Baldwin and Tonya Rose pose with their "gangster" little sisters.

"Oh darling, I just love being a freshman." Freshman Stephanie Rose poses dressed in her Freshman Days costume.

Don't you think you're playing a dangerous game? At the back-to-school-dance, Gwen Horras finds a new friend.

Amanda and Jill scream for help to be saved from the "white blob" creature. Amanda McCleod and Jill Elliott enjoy themselves at a Mount dance.

Ssshhhh Junior Lori Rodgers struggles to keep her vow of silence on Monk Day.

Hold it! Senior Jill Guffin takes notes as fast as she can.

How much more of this? Sophomore Christy Williams is easily distracted at an assembly.

Tahdah! Freshmen Carrie Collins and Maggie Crocker proudly unveil the new freshman bulletin board.

CHAPTER 5

GUIDES

FACULTY

THE LEADERS

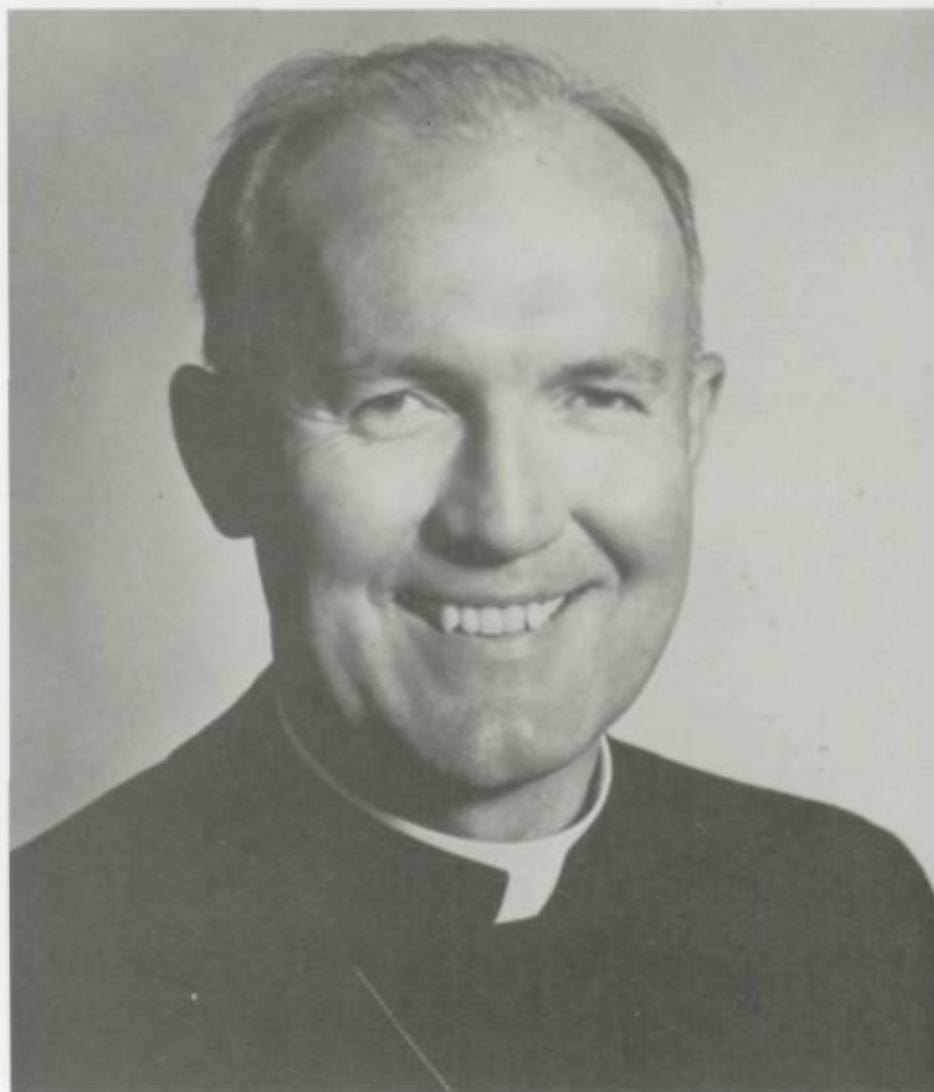

It was a year of change, yet it was the same school that greeted the 589 students and 43 faculty members.

The 1983-84 year was a busy one for everyone. Bishop Andrew J. McDonald was no exception. Along with meeting his responsibilities as Bishop of Little Rock, the Bishop and 89 other United States Bishops went to Rome for the Theological Consultation during September. The group remained in Rome for a month and visited such sites as Assisi, Italy, birthplace of St. Francis. The Bishops met with Pope John Paul II before their return home.

Sr. Henrietta Hockle, O.S.B., Superintendent of the Diocese of Little Rock Catholic Schools, kept a hectic schedule this 1983-84 school term, too. She made her annual visit to each school in the Little Rock Diocese and attended some classes. The 1983-84 Diocesan Teachers' Meeting was held at Catholic High School, and Sr. Henrietta had charge of the meeting featuring Brother Michael Grady, S.M., of Ohio as the main speaker.

Principal Sr. Richard Mary Burke, R.S.M., and Assistant Principal Sr. Patrick Mary Hillmeyer, R.S.M., the school's leaders, guided us through the 1983-84 school year. The two worked very hard from Freshman registration to the Juniors' Ring Mass. The year was one of many achievements and challenges for the Administration. The tearing down of the old convent proved to be very trying, but they managed to keep a handle on all the noise, confusion, and opposition and pull the Mount through another, yet unique year.

NEW TEACHERS JOIN STAFF

Two new faculty members joined the Mount in the second semester to temporarily replace Mrs. Jerry Ferguson. Mrs. Nannette Wayne is teaching the Accounting classes. Ms. Riesie Howard also taught the Speech classes and the General Math Course for the first part of the last semester.

Books are Sr. Eugenia.

Ms. Pham's class takes a breather.

Mrs. Diane Taylor prepares transparencies for her reading classes.

Mrs. Hammond shows us her beautiful house.

TEACHER'S HISTORICAL LANDMARK

Mrs. Jackie Hammond, Junior English teacher, lives in a historical landmark! The house, called the Bruner-Hammond house, was purchased by the Hammonds in 1973. The building, constructed in 1892, is listed in the National Register of Historic Places. Mrs. Hammond has taken the task of furnishing it with various antiques.

Mrs. Noor's class takes a killer test.

Sr. Matthew and Sr. Celine take time for a personal chat.

Play it again Sam. Sr. Mildred instructs an enrichment class.

Mrs. Zawislak: world of art.

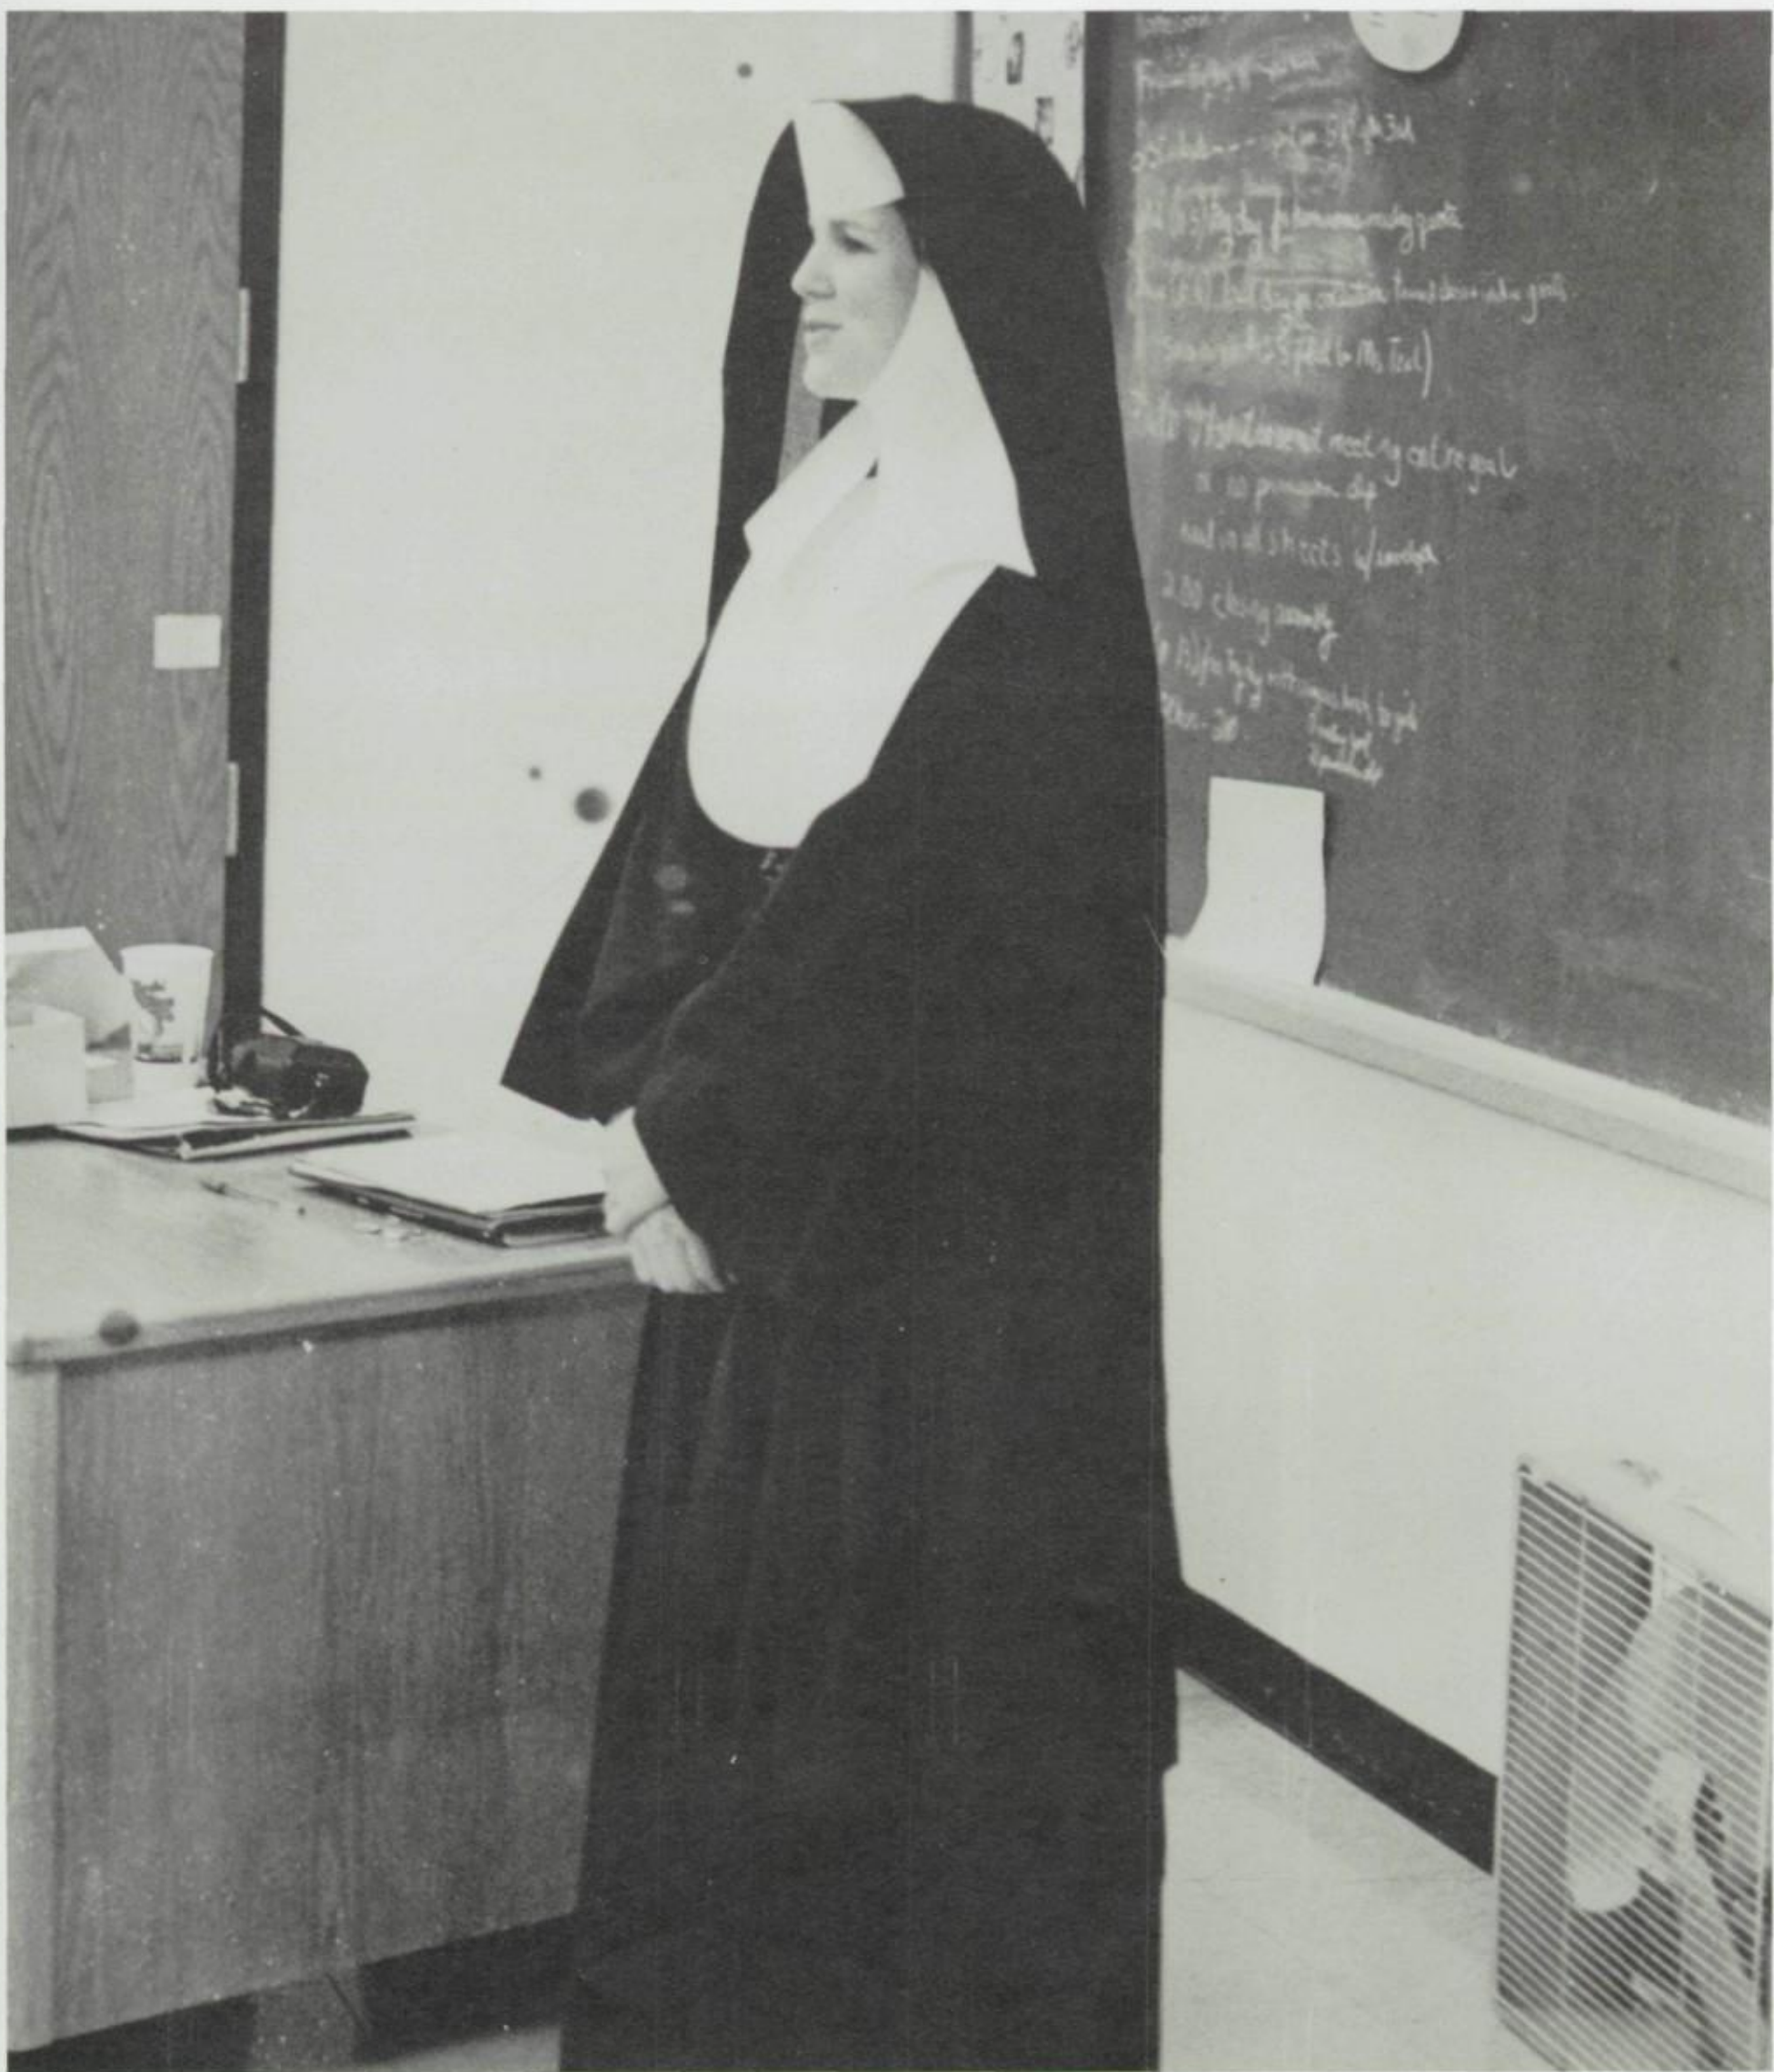

Ms. Viens manages to keep herself busy.

COMPUTER CRAZE

The world is beginning to be shaped by computers, and the Mount is certainly no exception. The year 1983 marked the start of computer classes being offered. Both Computer Literacy/Programming and Computer Literacy/Economics are taught by Mrs. Sigler and Mrs. Papacek.

Mr. Mills and Mrs. Papacek discover that computers are becoming the world of tomorrow.

In Church History Class, Sr. Teresa Dolan, RSM, models the habit formerly worn by Mercy sisters.

Angel Baby: "Who's the lucky guy this week?" "5:30" It's still funny! "Intriguing" Amy: "Joe is a little . . ." "Get awaaay!" "Baabay!" Bambi: "Let's go to GG's!" "I want a Grammy!" "TOGA!" "How many guys are you engaged to now?" "Meet — Joe!" Banana Panda: "Loverboy!" "Rockettes" "Peopllle!" Bashy: "I want a boyfriend!" "CHRIS!" "It's raining men!" "Ma'am, you're standing still in a no-parking zone!" "I just wanted you to know that!" Chip-py: "You should be shot" "Paul, oh, Paul!" "My kitty cat craves chicken!" Chris: "Let's all get sick at the fair!" "PARTY!? — On a school night?!?" Debbi: "Let's dance!" "The one with the big nose?!" Maggie: "Are you a punker or what?" "You only love me for my history book!" Mew: "I love R.W.!" "Monster Mash!" "Mashed Potatoes!" "I danced!?" Portia: "If you ever happen to have an extra gorgeous male type . . ." Reneé: "Taekwondo — Exciting!" "Baby" "RLA" "best friends" Thumper: "Buff!" "Niki the Red!" Lisa: "Snakes in the water f+n?!" "P.E.!" Kerry: "Spaced-out" V-ball Champ "Not the BAD Stuff!" Janet: "Here's to short, sweet, and petite" Shannon: "Move the tuba" Beth: "Here's to catching Shaun!" There's really been too much to tell or even do; so we can sum it up as "I Love U!" Merry X-mas!

*I wonder where the time went.
Where did the hours go?
The days and weeks rolled into years.
Where did the hours go?*

*I wonder where the time went.
It seems like yesterday
I heard the patter of little feet
That scampered out to play.*

*It seems like twice I turned around
And then she was all grown.
It's hard for me to comprehend.
It all seems so unknown.*

*But alas, I needn't fret.
I have every minute of it yet.
Tucked away down deep inside of me
Are years of wealthy memories.*

The Mount Blues

ALL: Heat Wave, demolition, clouds of dust;
Cold drinks, and shorts are really a must.
Hairy legs, greasy hair, wrinkled skirts;
So much homework, we've got no time to flirt.

REFRAIN: We've got the Mount Blues; goin' to an all girls' school.

FRESHMEN: First day of school, we were scared to death.
Everything's so big it could take away your breath.
We lost our recess; morning milk, too.
No more boys. Oh! Boo hoo hoo!

REFRAIN: We've got the Freshmen Blues; goin' to an all girls' school.

SOPHOMORE: We're no longer babies, but we're still not on top.
We're tired of gettin' pushed around and being called slops.
Can Drive, Robin Hood, Father/Daughter Dance;
We'll do the best we can. Won't you give us a chance?

REFRAIN: We've got the Sophomore Blues; goin' to an all girls' school.

INTERLUDE

JUNIORS: Tryin' to please the seniors; nothing ever goes right.
We work five months for just one night.
But though it drives us crazy and we feel like we could scream,
We live for the night when we get our rings.

REFRAIN: We've got the Junior Blues; goin' to ann all girls' school.

SENIORS: 7:55 we drive into the lot;
All spaces gone; gotta walk five blocks.
Essays, book reports, term papers, too;
All in the same week; what are we gonna do?

REFRAIN: We've got the Senior Blues; goin' to an all girls' school.

FACULTY: Listenin' to excuses when they come in late.
Can't give 'em homework cause they got a big date.
Meetings, sponsorships, papers to grade.
No time to teach the lesson plans that we made.

REFRAIN: We've got the Faculty Blues; teachin' in an all girls' school.
Pink slips, yellow slips, blue slips, too.
After-school detention; nothing to do.
Raffle tickets, home games, and spirit stick.
Boy, that competition really gets thick.

REFRAIN: We've got the Mount Blues; goin' to an all girls' school.
We've got the Mount Blues; goin' to an all girls' school.

Learning

Student Board
Members for 1983-84

Mt. St. Mary's
Linda Alger
Mary Ellen Richards

The Twin City Bank Student Board of Directors was formed in 1970 because we wanted to find out what we could do to make our bank more responsive to the needs of young people. The surest way to find the answers was to listen to young people.

Thanks to our Student Board, we've been able to strengthen our services, adjust to their changing attitudes and life styles. We've always learned by listening to these young people.

If you have any suggestions about how we might be able to improve our services, talk to one of this year's board members. Their job is to inform us. Our job is to listen and learn.

For all the tears I've caused to weep
For all the times I've seen you peek
For all the answers I've helped you seek
For all the nights I watched you sleep
For all the times I've heard you giggle

TO JUDY

First Grade

Oh star so bright,
Reach greater heights,
And light the night,
Help things go right.
Speak gentle words,
Give helping hands,
Light up the trail,
For those who fail.

Congratulations Honey! We are all so proud of you.
Daddy, Mama, Johnny, Eddie,
Joe, Susie, and Betsy.
"You light up our lives."

THE SPECIALNESS OF A TRADITION

The 1983-84 school year has once again been a total success for the Mount community. From the Big Sis-Lil' Sis activities all the way to final exams, we have experienced the traditions, togetherness, and good times which have existed for years. Memories developed at the Mount become special because the girls of the Mount are a special type of people. Unlike preppies, valleys, punks, societies, or any other group of people, the privilege to wear houndstooth skirts belongs to those in a class by themselves. The Official 1984 Mercian Yearbook is the handbook of The Tradition, Mannerisms, Dress Codes, Family, Activities, and Memories of the 1984 school year — remember it always!

"Girls" explains Coach Bettye Francis, "the object of the game is to get the ball over the net."

The latest in resort wear is modeled by Freshmen Laura Rasco and Kim Rohman.

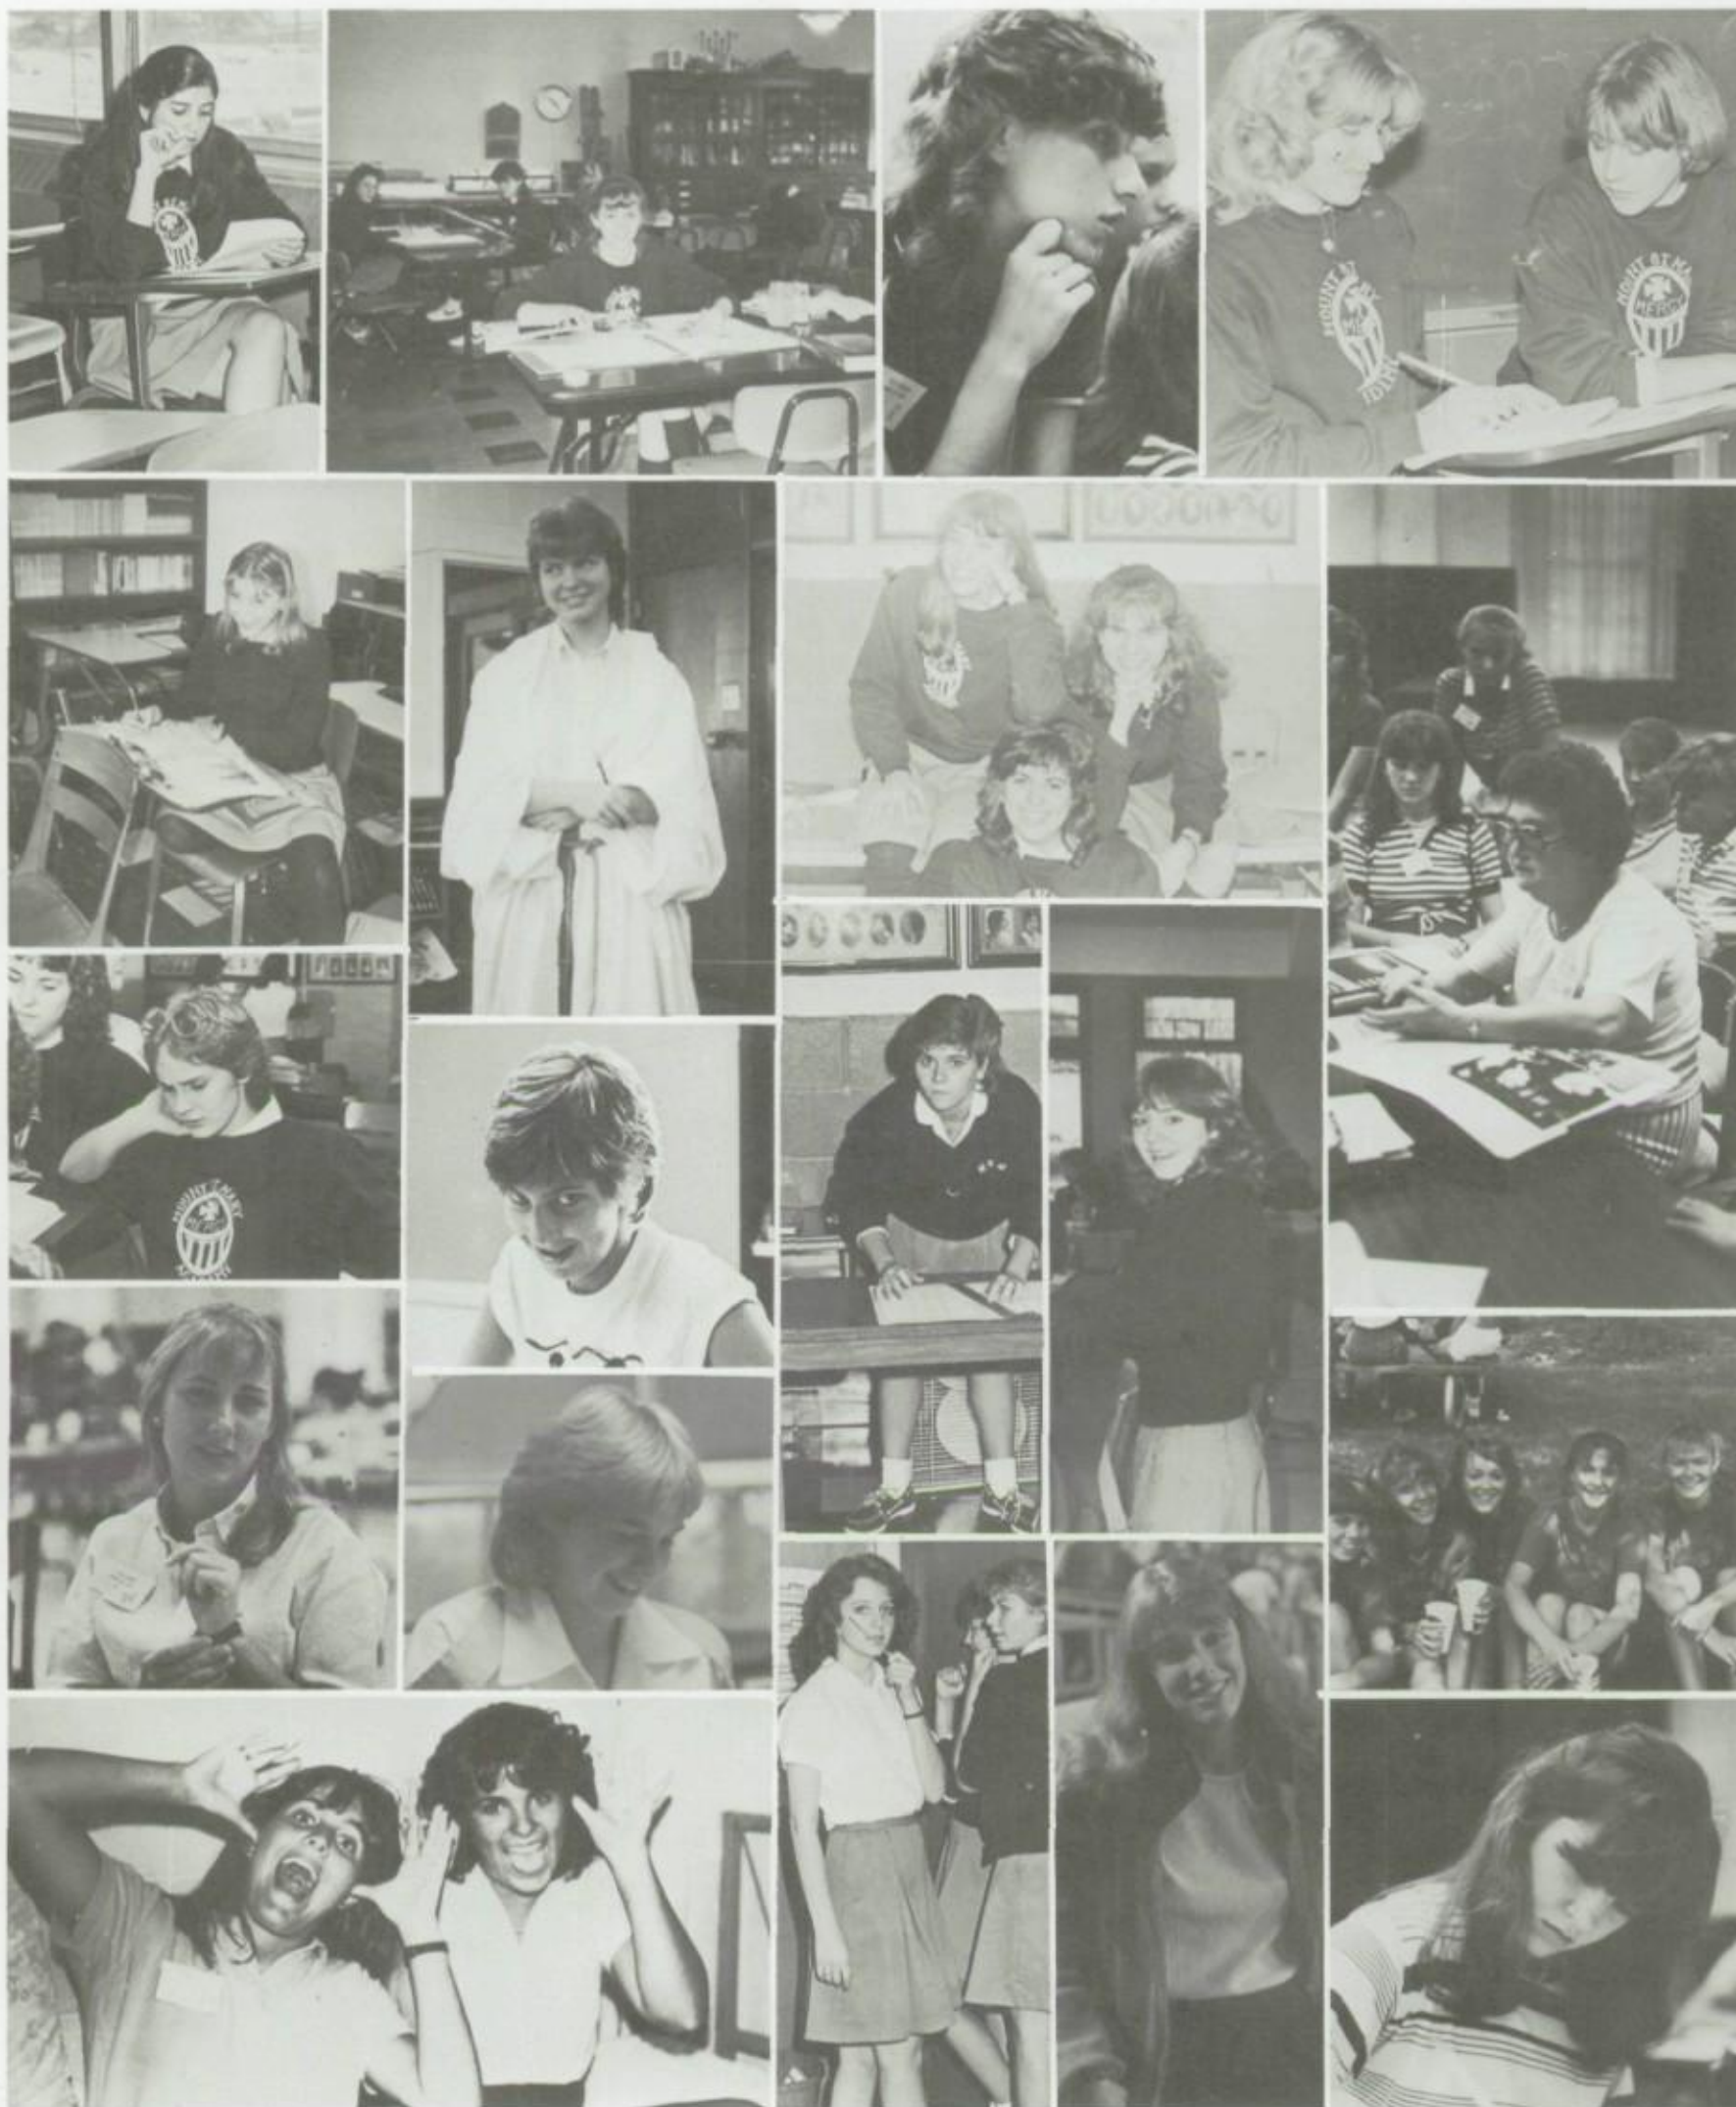

Seniors Kelli Munroe, Lange Robinson, and Carol Oswald become "queens for a day" at Bazaar assembly.

"My name is Sister Stephanie," says Stephanie Boger in her book report to her Freshman English Class.

COLOPHON

The 1984 Mercian was produced by and for the students and faculty of Mount Saint Mary Academy, Little Rock, Arkansas. The Mercian was printed by Taylor Publishing Company, Dallas, Texas. Our company representative was Mr. Mike Ferguson. Professional photography was done by Whiddon Photographers and National School Pictures, Inc.

The Mercian was printed on 8½" by 11", using Times Roman type for headlines, body copy and captions. Headlines were 14, 18, 24, and 36 points. Body copy was produced in 10 point type, captions in 8 point, and index in 6 point.

Color used in the book was 4-color in the opening section and partially in Student Life. The durolith cover was designed by Liz Banks.

Sixty percent of the Mercian activity photographs was furnished by the Mount's own darkroom.

The 1984 Mercian claims three record setting things: It is the largest in history, it has the most Senior advertisements, and it will have for the first time a spring supplement to cover spring activities, including graduation.

The Mercian Staff attended the Taylor Publishing Company workshop at the University of Central Arkansas and took the Grand Prize. Representatives also attended the National Scholastic Press Association in Saint Louis, Arkansas High School Press Association fall workshop, and Journalism Day at the University of Arkansas at Little Rock.

The Mercian is a member of the Arkansas High School Press Association, Columbia Scholastic Press Association, and National Scholastic Press Association.

EDITORS' NOTE

It's finally over! This book that we have worked on, laughed about, cried about, fought about, and dreamed about is now a reality. We have had our share of problems, but we have come through them, basically, all in one piece; and we think that we have produced one of, if not the best Mercians the Mount has ever seen! So many people have contributed to the making of this yearbook. Our sincerest thanks go out to: Laura Pruitt, our devoted Business Manager, who kept up with every cent and also kept us in line; Sheila Horner, Photo Editor, and her "staff" for putting in long hours in and out of the darkroom; the best staff in the world for working so hard and putting up with our moods and whims; Mike Ferguson, our Taylor representative, for answering our questions and just being there during some anxious moments; and, last but not least, Miss Mary Maude Gallagher. Her never-ending support, prodding, "aching backs" and love got us through this year. It was not easy working with one editor who screamed and another who cried, but we made it, and we appreciate her more than she will ever know.

Leigh Anne Embrey

Suzy Lilly

It is our sincerest hope that the 1984 Mercian will contain as many happy memories for you as it does for us.

Love and Lots of Luck!
